

DTEX SPONSORS CYBER SECURITY CHALLENGE UK

Dtex is continuing its sponsorship of the UK Challenge in 2011. The not-for-profit organisation, now commencing second year of operation ran a series of online and face to face competitions over the last twelve months in order to identify

Cyber Security
Challenge UK

and encourage the next generation of Cyber Security experts and create a path to a successful career in information security. The competitions are designed by leading security, education and government organisations as a response to the shortage of skilled professionals in the cyber security sector.

“We are proud to be a Founding Sponsor of the Cyber Security Challenge, which provides the opportunity to collaborate with some of the biggest and most trusted brands in the UK whilst jointly investing in our future industry professionals.” Mohan Koo, Dtex Systems.

Over the weekend the 2010 series of games concluded with the final of the Cyber Security Challenge UK in Bristol, at which successful entrants were awarded a range of career-building and education-focused awards. Media coverage of the weekend Masterclass Grand Final and the Awards Ceremony can be found at:

BBC News, 7 March 2011

Telegraph, 7 March 2011

Computing.co.uk, 4 March 2011

www.cybersecuritychallenge.org.uk