

EMPLOYEES: YOUR BIGGEST ASSET...OR BIGGEST RISK?

Excerpt from a thought leadership article by Dtex Systems: How to drive Operational Efficiency while delivering Security & Compliance objectives.

“ ...In the coming years it is anticipated that the dependency on mandatory Employee Monitoring (EM) requirements will increase significantly in line with the predicted rise of the insider threat, which is now recognised as a fundamental source of income for organised e-Crime groups. Whilst EM is largely recognised as a function of Information Security, some leading CNI organisations have begun to harness the ‘user intelligence’ produced from EM systems to accurately inform decision making with regard to overall ICT strategy, providing the vital intelligence required to identify under-utilised ICT assets to ultimately drive cost savings. ”

The full article will appear in Procurement Review Series, Spring 2011 issue. Contact michelle.rogers@dtexsystems.com for more information.

